

ABSTRACT OF THE INVENTION

This invention provides a method and apparatus of a multiplayer gaming reward system. A pool of two or more gaming machines is provided, each gaming machine having an operational state and being in communication with a central control system. One or more of the pool of gaming machines is selected at a predetermined time. A reward is provided to a player of the selected gaming machine responsive to an operational state of the selected gaming machine.